

Vemco Group is a well-established company with over 400 employees and 200 contractors, having grown significantly since we started our first operations in 1995 as a power utility contracting company.

We provide solutions to Australia's largest utility and infrastructure companies across every state and territory. A growing company with limitless possibilities and highly specialised service offerings to the electrical markets, we are seeking:

Electrical Designers - VIC & WA

Vemco Group's Design and Construction business is an independent infrastructure specialist that works with clients to deliver quality electrical infrastructure projects. As a result of continued growth there is an exciting opportunity to join a professional team and work for an employee focused company who is well established in the industry.

The suitable applicants will have at least 3 years proven expertise in Low voltage, 11, 22 & 66 KV overhead and underground electrical distribution design and able to produce detailed designs in the electrical distribution systems for both overhead and underground systems.

An understanding of power authorities design practices would be preferred and the successful applicant will have;

- A background in either Electrical Utilities or Engineering Consulting
- Outstanding work ethic with a 'can do' attitude
- Extremely high focus on Quality and Customer Service
- Ability to work in a team environment
- Strong business acumen
- Highly developed communication skills

In addition to the above, we would like to hear from individuals who have the following;

- Knowledge of AutoCAD/MicroStation Drafting
- Well developed knowledge of AS3000, AS 3008 Design
- Traction and Electromechanical Design
- Experience in Commercial, Industrial, H.V. Customers and Mining Design
- Experience working across any of the following areas; power generation, transmission, distribution, substation, primary or secondary design.

These roles are in VIC & WA and are available for immediate start.
